Tools Designed to Serve Youth and Communities

HUD Partnerships:

1) HUD-GreatSchools Partnership
2) FindYouthInfo.gov
WHAT IS THE HUD-GREATSCHOOLS PARTNERSHIP

- On 11/8/11 HUD joined forces with GreatSchools, a national non-profit educational resource for parents, to give parents living in public housing or who receive HUD Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) Rental assistance greater access to local school information that will help them make more informed decisions about where to live and where to send their children to school.

- GreatSchools’ supports parents through a wide variety of web-based resources available at www.GreatSchools.org. Their flagship offering is a database of school performance information for more than 200,000 PreK-12 public, charter, and private schools in the U.S. The website also has information on how parents can help their children achieve success in PreK-12.

- Its free and easy to use! By typing in a zip code, mailing address, or city and grade level, parents receive local listings of schools, performance ratings, which schools include special education/afterschool programs, and more!

- While the information is web-based, the HUD-GreatSchools partnership is a hands on approach. The Partnership will work with the nation’s 3,200 PHAs to provide handouts of local school listings, and other helpful information to parents, as they are receiving housing assistance.
HUD-GREATSCHOOLS PARTNERSHIP

- Objectives: By providing HUD-assisted families with access to school-related information, we hope to:

  - Enable parents to make informed educational choices for their children;

  - Empower parents to become further involved in their children’s education; and

  - Increase the number of HUD-assisted households with school-age children who have access to schools scoring at or above the local average.
Using GreatSchools.org to find schools...

- User-friendly search tool with information on schools nationwide
- Provides school information like address, academic performance, extra curricular activities offered, GreatSchools 1-10 rating and more
...and information for unique family situations.

- Special Education section focused towards parents who have children with learning difficulties.
- Resources that speak to parents about understanding and helping their children with LDs.
- Community experience where parents can chat with other parents who have children with LDs.

What Youth-Serving Organizations and Partnerships Tell Us They Want to Know

1. Where can I find high-quality information on cross-cutting youth topics?
2. Where can I find information on evidence-based programs and other effective strategies for youth?
3. What youth programming is the federal government supporting in my neighborhood?
4. How can I apply for federal funding for my youth program?
Youth Topics

Through the Youth Topics series, the Interagency Working Group on Youth Programs provides information, strategies, tools, and resources for youth, families, schools and community organizations related to a variety of cross-cutting topics that affect youth. Read what experts are saying about these topics. Learn how the federal government is promoting collaboration at all levels to promote positive outcomes for youth. Get ideas for your neighborhood, community, or state. Click on the links below to learn more about specific topics.
Transition Age Youth

The Interagency Working Group on Youth Programs supports a number of efforts to build the skills and resources of youth aged 16-24. Whether they are called "youth in transition," "transition age youth," "youth aging out" or other terms, youth in this age group experience a number of challenges on their path to a successful adulthood. A particular challenge for federal programs is support for youth transitioning out of foster care or juvenile detention facilities, youth who have run away from home or dropped out of school, and youth with disabilities.

The Evidence-Based Program Directory helps you find programs that address risk and protective factors in young people. You can search directly from the home page.
Map My Community enables you to enter your zip code and find federally funded youth programs in your area – so you can identify resources and gaps.

Use the interactive mapping tool on this page to locate federally supported youth programs in your community, search by keywords or ZIP code and click Find Programs. If programs are found the location is marked with the street number, department, funding agency, recipient name and full address. Results are filtered to show only the CDF numbers. Visit About the location data to learn about where the data comes from.

Note: Only programs with a street level address are shown on this version of the map. For a full list of federally supported youth programs use the Text-Only Version of this tool.

The new custom search of grants.gov will help you find open solicitations for youth programs.

To simplify your funding search, we’ve developed a custom search tool that allows you to search Grants.gov by Youth Topic or Federal Agency.

Additional Assistance and Services

Benefits.gov
This is the U.S. Government’s official benefits Web site. It provides information on more than 1,000 benefit and assistance programs such as social security/supplemental security income, Medicaid, and state social services.

Complete a short questionnaire to find out about all of the programs for which you might be eligible, including food stamps, child care subsidies, health insurance, scholarships, lending programs, and more.
Search Grants.gov

Grants.gov provides information on more than 1,000 grant opportunities for 26 federal grantmaking agencies. FindYouthInfo.gov has developed a customized search of Grants.gov to help you find open grant announcements for programs that serve youth and their families.

- Search for open grant announcements using the checkboxes below
- Register and apply through Grants.gov

The FindYouthInfo search tool filters for grants that match a list of approximately 300 CFDA (Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance) numbers that are likely to fund youth programs.

Search by keyword or filter by topic or agency.
